25 Q. Thank you for calling InterpreTalk. Hello, this

May, 20 2012

Dear Mr. Raul Morales,

I am writing to you in the hope you can get my laptop returned to me by Mr. Sankara, who took it without my permission when he moved out of Christ House. He called me on May 4, after I had reported stolen to the police, and said he had borrowed it because he needed it, but I know from having lived with him at Christ House, that he does not know how to use a computer. I begged him to return it to me because I have on it many notes and documents I use to study for the up-coming exam to get my medical license. He has not done so. Not only is the laptop gone, but other residents have lost cell phones and clothing to him.

I came to this country because I was oppressed and subject to much injustice. I appreciate the values and liberty I now enjoy. Mr. Sankara apparently does not care about the values and rights of others, and if he cannot repair the damage he has done, I hope he will be appropriately punished.

Please find the police report attached.

Yours truly

Honorable Judge Page
The Immigration Court
201 Varick Street, Room 1140
New York, NY. 10014

My name is Raul Morales, and I am the Director of Residents at Christ House Inc. We work with asylum seekers, victims of torture, etc. I am also a member of the Riverside Church Sojourners which has a ministry of visiting those in detention.

In one of our visits to Hudson Co. Jail I met Mr. Ahmadou Sankara A097 528 851, We established a relationship and I made arrangements to get him released on bail, which I put on my personal credit card with the condition that he would pay the $800 service charge. Since Christ House offers room and board (dormitory style) to asylum seekers, we were able to take him in while waiting for his court dates. He joined us in Sept. 2011. Unfortunately Mr. Sankara not only did not honor his promise to me about the $800, but he also stole a number of things from the other residents when he left to live with friends on May 2012. He took 5 cellulars phones, clothing, and worst of all, a new laptop belonging to a resident from Africa who is preparing to take the UMLE examination towards his medical license. The greatest loss was not the lap top, but all the data stored on it which the resident was using to prepare for the exam.

Judge Page, you have access to Mr. Sankara since he has an appointment at your court on June 1st. I am asking you to make a condition for his acceptance that he return all the things he stole from the residents or give the money to replace the items. I am willing to let go the $800 because it was a risk I took. The residents of Christ House however, should not be punished because of this man's bad character.

I am including with this letter the police report for the stolen laptop and a letter from Mr. Aime' Lufulwabo, the person who lost it.

Respectfully yours,

Raul Morales

Dear Mr. Sankara:

This letter is in response to your correspondence to the Executive Office for Immigration Review (EOIR), Office of the General Counsel, dated February 12, 2016. In your correspondence, you indicate that you are seeking information on "any other" immigration actions or relief applications. You also state that you are a United States citizen because you wife was granted citizenship through an application process. We provide the following information.

ORDER OF DISMISSAL

APPEALS
15-3973

LORETTA A. PRESKA, Chief United States District Judge:

Plaintiff is proceeding pro se and in forma pauperis. By order dated August 3, 2015, the Court directed Plaintiff to amend his complaint. Plaintiff submitted an amended complaint on October 2, 2015, and the Court has reviewed it. The Court dismisses the amended complaint for the reasons set forth below.

STANDARD OF REVIEW

The Court must dismiss a complaint, or portion thereof, that is frivolous or malicious, fails to state a claim upon which relief may be granted, or seeks monetary relief from a defendant who is immune from such relief. 28 U.S.C. §§ 1915(e)(2)(B), 1915A(b); see Abbas v. Dixon, 480 F.3d 636, 639 (2d Cir. 2007). While the law mandates dismissal on any of these grounds, the Court is obliged to construe pro se pleadings liberally, Harris v. Mills, 572 F.3d 66, 72 (2d Cir. 2009), and interpret them to raise the “strongest [claims] that they suggest,” Triestman v. Fed. Bureau of Prisons, 470 F.3d 471, 474-75 (2d Cir. 2006) (internal quotation marks and citations omitted, emphasis in original).

Thomas Sankara

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Thomas Isidore Noël Sankara (December 21, 1949 – October 15, 1987) was a Burkinabé military captain, Marxist revolutionary, Pan-Africanist theorist, and communist President of Burkina Faso from 1983 to 1987.<sup>[1][2]</sup> Viewed as a charismatic, and iconic figure of revolution, he is commonly referred to as "Africa's Che Guevara."<sup>[1][3][4][5]</sup>

Sankara seized power in a 1983 popularly supported coup at the age of 33, with the goal of eliminating corruption and the dominance of the former French colonial power.<sup>[1][6]</sup> He immediately launched "the most ambitious program for social and economic change ever attempted on the African continent."<sup>[6]</sup> To symbolize this new autonomy and rebirth, he even renamed the country from the French colonial Upper Volta to Burkina Faso ("Land of Upright Men").<sup>[6]</sup> His foreign policies were centered around anti-imperialism, with his government eschewing all foreign aid, pushing for odious debt reduction, nationalizing all land and mineral wealth, and averting the power and influence of the IMF and World Bank. His domestic policies were focused on preventing famine with agrarian self-sufficiency and land reform, prioritizing education with a nationwide literacy campaign, and promoting public health by vaccinating 2.5 million children against meningitis, yellow fever and measles.<sup>[7]</sup> Other components of his national agenda included planting over ten million trees to halt the growing desertification of the Sahel, doubling wheat production by redistributing land from feudal landlords to peasants, suspending rural poll taxes and domestic rents, and establishing an ambitious road and rail construction program to "tie the nation together."<sup>[6]</sup> Moreover, his commitment to women's rights led him to outlaw female genital mutilation, forced marriages and polygamy; while appointing females to high governmental positions and encouraging them to work outside the home and stay in school even if pregnant.<sup>[6]</sup>

In order to achieve this radical transformation of society, he increasingly exerted authoritarian control over the nation, eventually banning unions and a free press, which he believed could stand in the way of
